FREE PLAYABLE SAMPLER / ONE MISSION

A letter for the moon

Try a small piece of The Moonlight Post Office, a cooperative birthday adventure for ages 5-6.

ONE PUZZLE. A LITTLE MOMENT OF MAGIC.

Pip the moth has two muddled letters. Your team will compare pictures, find the matching envelope and help the night mail get moving again.

2-6 CHILDREN / ADULT READS / LEVEL 1 OF 3

About 5-10 minutes; an estimate, not a play-test result.

This sampler contains mission 1, its setup and its answer only. The complete 14-page game adds five different puzzles, a stamp passport, a final delivery and a full host guide.

SAMPLER / ADULT SETUP

Start in a few minutes

PREPARE

Print page 3, single-sided, using A4 or US Letter to match your printer. Keep page 4 out of children's view. Sit together where everyone can see. No scissors, hiding, props, independent reading or pencil are required. Black-and-white works.

INVITE THE TEAM

Say: "I am Pip the moth, and I look after the Moonlight Post Office. A letter needs a matching twin. Can you check the pictures together?" Read page 3 aloud, then allow thinking time before anyone answers.

PLAY TOGETHER

With 2 children, one compares and one checks. With 3-4, make pairs. With 5-6, three pairs can each check one picture position. Rotate who points. There is no race and no losing. Children may point, speak or ask you to point.

FINISH KINDLY

Use the gentle hints on page 4 when needed. Once solved together, read the short sampler ending. This is a complete little activity; there is no need to buy anything to finish it.

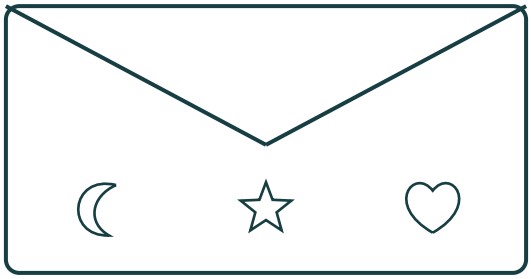

Sound, movement and celebration are optional. A quiet wave is a perfect ending.

MISSION 01 / LOOK CAREFULLY

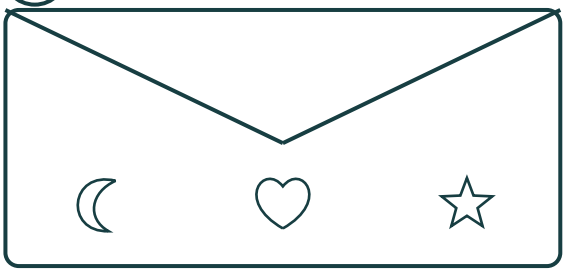

The mixed-up stamp

Pip: "This letter needs a matching twin. Find the envelope with the very same three pictures in the very same order."

TEAM MOMENT: Each helper names or points to one picture. Together, mime carrying a very delicate letter.

SAMPLER / ADULT ANSWER

The letter is ready

ANSWER: ENVELOPE 3

Its pictures are moon, star, heart, in the same left-to-right order as Pip's letter. Envelope 1 swaps the last two; envelope 2 swaps the first two; envelope 4 has a leaf instead of a heart.

GENTLE HINTS

First: "Find the envelopes that start with a moon."
Then: "Which one has a star in the middle and a heart at the end?"
If needed, compare all three positions together. Helping is part of the game.

READ THE SAMPLER ENDING: “You found its twin! Pip folds the letters into the moonbag and gives a tiny happy flutter. The night mail is on its way. Thank you, wonderful helpers!”
